MAYOR'S INITATIVES

Mayor's storytelling initiative proving a hit with young readers across the city and district

Since launching her storytelling initiative earlier this year, Mayor Cllr Grace Uí Niallais has been bringing the magic of books to classrooms across the Derry City and Strabane District, inspiring young minds and encouraging a love of reading among P1 and P2 pupils.

The initiative has already seen the Mayor visit a number of primary schools, where she has shared stories, sparked imaginations and connected with hundreds of young children in a fun and interactive way. From enthusiastic pupils eager to join in with their favourite stories to warm welcomes from school staff, the programme has quickly become a highlight of the Mayor's year in office.

Mayor's Care Home Visits Initiative bringing music, companionship and community spirit to residents

As part of her commitment to connecting with people of all ages throughout the Derry City and Strabane District, Mayor Cllr Grace Uí Niallais launched a special Care Home Visits Initiative aimed at spending quality time with residents in residential and care settings across the council area.

Created to strengthen connections with older residents and ensure they remain an active and valued part of community life, the initiative sees the Mayor spend time with residents, listening to their stories, celebrating their achievements and sharing memorable afternoons of music and conversation. Accompanying the Mayor on each visit is the Hive Cancer Support Choir, whose performances of well-loved classics have helped create uplifting and enjoyable experiences for residents, staff and visiting family members.

Mayor Uí Niallais is looking forward to visiting many more care and residential homes across the city and district as she continues her year in office.

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS

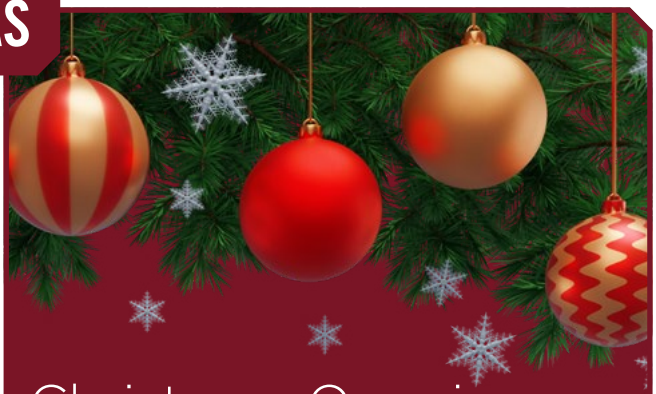

Make the brown bin your first choice for food waste this Festive Season

This time of year is a time for enjoying meals with family and friends, but it is also a time when food consumption increases. With this, brings increased unavoidable food waste. It is important to remember that this waste belongs in the brown bin rather than the black bin. Food scraps such as vegetable peelings, leftovers, bones, tea bags and coffee grounds can all be placed in the brown bin. By separating food waste from general waste, residents can help reduce the amount of material placed in black bins and ensure food waste is managed in a more sustainable way.

During the festive period, it can be tempting to dispose of everything in the nearest bin while clearing up after family gatherings and celebrations. However, taking a few moments to separate food waste can make a significant difference. Food waste often makes up a large proportion of what is found in black bins. Up to 34% of waste that goes into the black bin should be placed into the brown bin or caddy. Using the brown bin correctly helps reduce unnecessary waste in black bins and supports efforts to divert valuable organic materials away from disposal.

This festive season, before putting food waste into your black bin, take a moment to consider whether it belongs in the brown bin instead. From dinner leftovers to the last potato peeling, every item placed in the right bin helps and every bag of food waste placed into the brown bin helps. Make your brown bin or caddy your first choice for food waste and keep the black bin for only those items that cannot be recycled or composted.

CITY DEAL

Consultation on Strabane Regeneration Public Realm for the Canal Basin

Local people recently had the opportunity to view and comment on exciting proposals for the future development of Strabane's Canal Basin as part of a public consultation held at Strabane Library. The proposed public realm improvements form part of the £115m Strabane Town Regeneration Programme, a transformative investment designed to create a vibrant destination and new civic heart for the town, centred around the historic Canal Basin. The plans include high-quality public spaces and attractive connections linking the Canal Basin, Alley Theatre and town centre, while helping to integrate major new developments including the planned leisure centre, regional college and Health and Social Care Hub on Derry Road. A proposed new pedestrian bridge would further strengthen links with the public transport hub and surrounding neighbourhoods, making it easier for people to walk and cycle into and around the town centre.

The consultation, which took place on 4th and 5th November, provided residents, businesses and stakeholders with an opportunity to view the draft designs and share their views on this significant next step in the regeneration of Strabane. Feedback gathered during the consultation will help inform the ongoing development of the project.

You can feedback to the online consultation by visiting www.derrystrabane.com/consultations

Integrated Consultancy Team Appointed for the Walled City Public Realm & Lighting Project

The Walled City Public Realm & Lighting Project has reached an exciting milestone with the appointment of an Integrated Consultancy Team, led by Tetra Tech to deliver the next stage of development alongside specialist lighting designers Spiers Major. The project will enhance public spaces and lighting around the historic Walled City, creating a more accessible, connected and welcoming city centre. With design work now underway, communities and stakeholders will have opportunities in the coming months to help shape the future vision for this important part of the city.

Planning Application submitted for the new Altnagelvin Teaching Space

This exciting project represents a fantastic opportunity to create a truly integrated medical teaching environment for students from Queen's University Belfast and Ulster University School of Medicine. The new facility will bring both universities together through one integrated teaching service, supported by flexible, adaptable space designed to meet current needs while providing capacity for future growth. Extending to approximately 650m^2, the development will support the approved model of 70 students per annum, plus 10% additional capacity, providing a future-focused setting for the next generation of medical professionals. The project will deliver high-quality lecture, tutorial and clinical skills facilities, supported by appropriate ancillary space.

Businesses back Love Strabane for third five-year term

Strabane businesses have overwhelmingly backed Love Strabane to continue delivering for the town centre for a further five-year term. A total of 93% of businesses voted Yes in the renewal ballot with 96% of the total NAV voting Yes. The positive ballot result means Love Strabane, formerly known as Strabane BID, will enter its third term in November 2026 with the new term running until October 2031.

The result provides Love Strabane with a renewed mandate to deliver its ambitious five-year Business Plan, developed through extensive consultation with local businesses and focused on increasing footfall and strengthening the collective voice of the business community.

Chair of Love Strabane, Dr Kieran Kennedy MBE, thanked businesses across Strabane for their support and confidence in the organisation. Dr Kennedy said: "We are absolutely delighted to have received such a significant level of support and confidence of the Strabane business community to continue the work of Love Strabane for a further five years. This result represents a clear endorsement of the role the organisation plays in supporting and promoting businesses across our town. I want to sincerely thank every business that took the time to engage with the renewal process and cast their vote. We are conscious of the responsibility that comes with this mandate and are determined to repay that confidence by delivering on the priorities set out in our new Business Plan. The next five years present huge opportunities for Strabane, with major public investment and regeneration plans for the town and we look forward to working with our business community, Council and partners to ensure Strabane is best placed to take advantage."

The renewal comes at a particularly significant time for Strabane, with major public realm improvements underway, the City Deal regeneration programme progressing and the town continuing its ambitious bid to become Town of Culture 2028. The new five-year Business Plan represents an investment of approximately £650,000 directly into Strabane town centre, supporting initiatives including targeted marketing campaigns, footfall-driving events and festivals and dedicated business support.

Love Strabane will also continue to operate the popular Love Strabane Gift Card and provide a dedicated Town Centre Manager to represent the interests of local businesses and advocate on their behalf on a range of operational and strategic issues. Mayor of Derry City and Strabane District Council, Councillor Grace Uí Niallais, who campaigned for a YES vote and visited local businesses around the town ahead of the ballot, welcomed the result and congratulated Love Strabane and the local business community. "I am delighted to see Love Strabane receive the support of the local business community for a further five-year term," she said. "This result demonstrates the confidence businesses have in the organisation and its ability to represent their interests and deliver positive initiatives for Strabane town centre. Love Strabane has played an invaluable role in championing local businesses and helping to create a stronger town centre. A united business community will be central to maximising those opportunities and I look forward to seeing Love Strabane continue to play a significant role in shaping the town's future."

Pride of Place success as North West Ministry of Youth secures runner-up award

Derry City and Strabane District Council has congratulated the North West Ministry of Youth following its outstanding success at the 2026 IPB Pride of Place Awards in Dublin, where the organisation was named runner-up in the Community Youth Initiative category. The prestigious all-island awards, organised by Co-operation Ireland in partnership with local authorities and headline sponsor IPB Insurance, celebrate the exceptional work of community organisations that make a positive difference to people's lives and strengthen local communities.

Representing the Council area at this year's awards were the North West Ministry of Youth and Derg Valley Care Health Hub, both of whom were selected through a competitive process managed by the Council's Local Community Growth Partnership Planning Boards.

The North West Ministry of Youth was recognised for its innovative and youth-led work in ensuring that young people's voices are heard and represented in local decision-making. The organisation has played a key role in supporting Derry and Strabane's status as Ireland's first UNICEF Child Friendly Community and continues to champion opportunities for young people across the district.
